

Take a look at this photo from the actual VE day celebration. I wonder where all of the colour from the photo has gone? Look at the clothes the children are wearing. How does the street look different? Can you see the bunting and the flags? I wonder what food they were eating as food was in short supply ?