English Curriculum Statement

Intent – What do we want for our children in English?

At KPNS, we want all our children to have a love of reading and writing and to be equipped with high standards of literacy skills that will enable them to participate fully as a member of society. We aim to inspire children to become effective and expressive communicators, engaged and avid readers and capable, fluent writers.

English teaching focuses on immersing children in a literature rich environment in an exciting and crosscurricular way so that skills and knowledge can be progressively developed as they move through school. Reading, in particular, is integral for accessing all areas of the curriculum so that pupils can develop culturally, emotionally, intellectually, socially and spiritually – reading is a tool for life.

At KPNS, we aim to:

• Develop fluent readers by using high quality class texts, RWI phonics and whole class fluency and comprehension sessions.

- Develop writers who are motivated to write, and fluent in a range of text types
- Ensure pupils have a good understanding of grammatical devices and apply these in their writing
- Have high expectations for spelling and handwriting which are applied across the whole curriculum

• Create a story telling school with effective speaking and listening skills that allow pupils to become effective communicators who use a broad and rich vocabulary

Implementation – How will we carry out our vision?

We implement our vision by teaching the National Curriculum through a cross-curricular approach to foster engagement, purpose and passion. Through a reading rich environment, English is taught daily with opportunities to read each day.

Early Reading: Daily synthetic phonics sessions, systematically taught and assessed using Read Write Inc. Reading Comprehension: In KS2, high quality texts are used for whole class reading comprehension sessions, taught three times weekly using reading fluency strategies. The first of these 3 sessions focuses on fluency and uses the 'Echo Reading' approach. The following sessions teach the children comprehension skills. (P5)

Writing: Writing begins with a rich and interesting hook and models Talk 4 Writing strategies throughout; text immersion, innovation and then invention that promote pupils who are fluent and confident writers and use aspirational vocabulary. (P16)

Handwriting: We use Letter-join as the basis of our handwriting policy, which covers all the requirements of the 2014 National Curriculum, and aspire for everyone to write in a neat, cursive/joined-up handwriting style. (P35-38)

Spelling: Spelling is taught discretely using the RWI spelling scheme, pupil practise daily and are tested weekly from Year 2. Doodlespell is used as a tool for pupils to practise spellings at home. (P34) Grammar: Grammar lessons explicitly teach new learning for year groups and daily grammar bursts ensure that children can consolidate learning and apply this effectively in their speaking and writing. (P20-33) Speaking & Listening: Unit design, as well as the structure of reading sessions, equip pupils with a strong command of the spoken and written English language and allows them to participate in discussions by communicating their ideas, emotions and opinions with others using appropriate vocabulary. Speaking and listening opportunities are embedded through all areas of the school curriculum. (P39)

Planning should:

- Be uploaded onto AllStaff well ahead of teaching, alongside all resources that are clearly labelled.
- Take the format of a SMART file or equivalent, ensuring all non-negotiables are met.
- KS2 Reading: Follow the Lesson Structure blueprint (pg 15)
- Writing: Follow the Blueprint Unit Plans in this document to structure units of work (pg 36)

Inclusion:

Teachers set high expectations for all pupils. They will use appropriate assessment to set ambitious targets and plan challenging work for all groups, including:

- More able pupils
- Pupils with low prior attainment
- Pupils from disadvantaged backgrounds
- Pupils with SEND
- Pupils with English as an additional language (EAL)

(Further information can be found in our statement of equality information and objectives, and in our SEND policy and information report.)

Impact – How will we assess what the children know, remember and understand?

Teachers will monitor the impact of their teaching using:

- AFL during lessons
- Half termly phonics & book banding assessments
- Weekly spelling test (Y2 onwards)
- Spaced retrieval activities embedded into planning and practise
- Key objective based cold and hot tasks at the start and end of each unit to assess what knowledge has been remembered and what skills have been mastered.
- Use of past reading & SPAG SATs papers in December and February for Year 2 & 6
- NFER reading and spelling papers at the end of spring and summer terms
- Statutory testing/assessment at key points throughout the year for EYFS, Year 1, 2 and 6
- INSIGHT to track writing objectives met and to inform gap analysis.

The Subject Leaders monitor the way their subject is taught throughout the school by looking at the intent, implementation and impact using:

- Planning scrutiny & book dips (work scrutiny)
- Pupil Interviews & Learning Walks
- External & internal moderation
- Data analysis
- SIL & Governor visits
- Planning and delivering CPD

Subject Leaders also have responsibility for monitoring the way in which resources are stored and managed. All the monitoring information is used by the Subject Leaders to ensure our provision and pupil outcomes are the very best they can be. Any next steps to move the subject and the children's learning forward are fed into the Subject Leader's monitoring and action plans, which form part of the whole school improvement plan.

Governors monitor whether the school is complying with its funding agreement and teaching a "broad and balanced curriculum" which includes the required subjects, through: Governor monitoring visits

English Pedagogy

Use of T4W to develop oral fluency, internalise language and sentence structures & provide a clear model of what a good one looks like for composition and components.	Each unit begins with a 'hook' to engage the pupils and provide a context for learning within a curriculum that is designed in a systematic way , building on previous knowledge and learning.	Planned talk: opportunities for speaking & listening built into daily sessions. Acquisition of vocabulary (broad and varied) taught.
Explicit explanations – direct teach.	Guided practices – shared write, whole class reading strategies.	Models/modelling ; text maps, working walls, word banks, writing toolkits, shared writing.
Daily Read Write Inc phonics & reading sessions (developing word recognition & language comprehension at stage not age).	Reading Session (whole class) developing, fluency alongside comprehension skills x 3 /week in KS2.	Love of reading nurtured! Story time (class text), books that match sounds, daily reading lair, reading incentives and homework (Reading Awards and weekly reads).
Daily spelling drip (spelling is taught through RWI spellings from EYFS- Y6). Children get explicitly taught the new spellings and then practise them using doodlespell the following week. This spaced retrieval forms part of our A4L.	Daily grammar blast that complements teaching for the unit or for consolidation (A4L used here to develop automaticity – done without thinking).	Letter-join scheme used across school (pre-cursive in EYFS).

Provision for SEND pupils: all pupils have equal access to curriculum content – we support, scaffold and adapt the curriculum through resourcing, pre-teaching or adult support to ensure that everyone can access the content.

Interventions run for bottom 20% of pupils; KS1 1:1 RWI, Y3/4 1:1 RWI, Y5/6 RWI Fresh Start or Hertfordshire fluency project depending on the children.

Reading at KPNS

We teach reading in a systematic and progressive way to all children from the moment they start with us in F1 until they leave us ready for secondary school. We have developed a clear Reading Curriculum Progression through school which focuses on 4 main elements: decoding texts, comprehending texts, responding to texts and analysing texts. This progression is detailed on pages 6 and 7.

At KPNS our teaching of the main reading elements as detailed above happens in a variety of ways:

- We start with phonological awareness in F1 and then move formally into daily RWI Inc phonics and reading sessions until most children finish the programme by Spring Term in Year 2. (P8)
- After phonics, children are taught reading through 'Fluency and Comprehension' sessions 3 times a week (see details on P9)
  - The Fluency and Comprehension sessions have been carefully structured around quality ARE texts and use the echo reading principles to help develop fluency. See lesson structure on P10
  - We have developed a Fluency and Comprehension Overview to ensure we are teaching reading through a variety of high quality ARE texts, include fiction, non-fiction and poetry and explicitly teaching the comprehension skills detailed in our Reading Curriculum Progression (see details on P11-14)
- Through Talk for Writing, we expose our children to a range of ARE quality texts which the children discuss, analyse and respond to. These 'Read and a Reader' and 'Read as a Writer' sessions are built into our writing unit plans.
- We have developed a Book Spine across school detailing quality texts we want our children to be exposed to during their time at KPNS. These books are shared through class story time and provide excellent opportunities for discussion and the promotion of a love of reading (P15)
- We actively nurture a love of reading as a whole school and in every single classroom.

Reading: Fluency and Comprehension

Early reading is predominantly taught though the decoding of words using phonics. We follow Read Write Inc. at KPNS and begin right from the start when children enter our nursery – please see Phonics document for more details.

Reading comprehension skills are taught using whole class reading and focus on the following strands: Retrieval, explain, predict, summarise and inference. The development of vocabulary is key to our children at KPNS so we actively teach it in every lesson.

All sessions are planned around quality texts that often consolidate topic work or broaden reading experience. Texts link to topics and help embed knowledge and vocabulary through a cross curricular link. The texts should be age related and encourage active thinking from all children. Scaffolding should be put in place to support individuals to access the same text.

From when children leave the RWI programme, they will participate in 3 Fluency and Comprehension sessions a week. Each session last no more than 30 minutes. Session 1 focuses on fluency and prosody using echo reading and the following sessions develop comprehension. On the following page is the lesson structure we follow to develop our reading.

We also develop the skills of comprehending, analysing and responding to a range of quality texts through the delivery of our whole school reading spine, quality model texts for Talk for Writing and carefully selected, progressive texts in reading lessons. This all works hand in hand to create a love of reading across our school.

Writing at KPNS

At KPNS our main vehicle for teaching writing is through Talk for Writing where we aim to develop oral fluency, internalise language and sentence structures and provide a clear model to support composition. Each unit begins with a 'hook' to engage pupils and provide a context for learning within a curriculum that has been designed in a systematic way, building on prior knowledge. In our English lesson we explicitly teach the following elements of writing: handwriting, spelling, grammar and composition of writing.

At KPNS our teaching of the main writing elements as detailed above happens in a variety of ways:

- We have a carefully planned long term overview for T4W where model texts are progressive across year groups and school ensuring a good coverage of fiction, non-fiction and poetry (P17).
- Each unit has a Unit Plan which follows a 'blueprint' developed in partnership with our T4W consultant. (P18)
- Details of how we assess writing, can be found on P19
- Grammar is explicitly taught through 'Grammar Blasts' as part of the unit plans and practised away from the point of teaching. (P20)
  - We follow the Pie Corbett progression in GPS which is inline with the National Curriculum (P21-33).
- Spelling is taught through the RWI spelling scheme (P34)
- Handwriting is taught using the 'Letter-Join' scheme. (P35-38)

Extended writing

How often and what that looks like in each year group?

- All units include regular writing that is scaffolded, modelled and developed with the teacher.
- Opportunities are built into each unit to innovate and re-write familiar texts in their own words.
- The Hot Task is a piece of extended writing invented by the pupil at the end of the unit which allows them to apply skills or knowledge learnt in a new context. Independently.
- Extended writing opportunities are also built into to other curriculum areas, where appropriate.

Green penning is the tool used for children to edit and improve their work with direction from teacher marking and / or verbal feedback given. It promotes editing as well as high standards of key secretarial skills in English.

- Time should be planned in on your timetable to ensure children can reflect on next steps and respond using green ink.
- It should be used to consolidate previous learning and knowledge, NOT for new teaching.

Writing: Grammar

Grammar Blasts

We know that grammar is essential in enabling children to develop linguistic competence and ultimately allows them to be better communicators in terms of writing and oral skills.

Grammar is taught in both a systematic and creative way at KPNS. Explicit teaching of grammar happens in every English lesson for approximately 5-10 minutes linked to the National Curriculum which we call a 'grammar blast'.

This is documented on our planning template and gives children further opportunities to revisit fundamental writing skills. Once key grammar knowledge has been explicitly taught, children are given the opportunity to practise and embed away from the point of teaching through morning activities.

One of the key principles of Talk 4Writing is the quality modelling of grammar in both model texts and through teacher modelling. This means that although children are taught grammar explicitly, they will also see how it is applied in the context of writing.

Through our wider curriculum, children further embed these terms as they are met and referred to throughout different curriculum areas.

Key assessment points, as identified in our assessment timetable, help us identify gaps in knowledge and inform our planning and interventions.

The pages below detail the grammar and punctuation to be taught by each year group and is in line with the National Curriculum expectations. Our Talk 4 Writing Unit plans for each year group also identify which elements are being explicitly taught during that unit (See example blueprint unit plan later in document).

Writing: spelling

At KPNS we follow the RWI Spelling Programme from when children come out of RWI (usually in Year 2) until they leave us at the end of Year 6. The programme is in line with, and fully covers, National Curriculum year group expectations.

Spelling is discretely taught 3 times a week for 15minutes, following the same routines and teaching methods used during their RWI phonics lessons, reducing cognitive load allowing the children to focus purely on the spellings they are learning.

Children are then given opportunities within the school day to learn these words and have homework relating to this.

• We use an app called Doodlespell to practise spelling at home. Each child has an individual login, and the teachers can monitor each child's progress against the spelling objectives. This provided valuable class and individual assessment information.

• The week AFTER the RWI unit of spelling has been taught, the teacher assigns the spelling words on Doodlespell. This gives the opportunity for children to practise away from the point of teaching using spaced retrieval.

- Alongside the weekly 'assigned spellings', children can access Doodlespell daily and it will reinforce and embed previously learnt patterns.
- At the end of each half term, children are given an informal test which feeds into planning and teaching the following half term.

• All class teachers to blog half termly spelling focuses with parents alongside the curriculum map. Whilst children are emergent writers, spelling is not marked. Teachers need to keep their professional judgement over which errors it is appropriate to identify using our green pens to 'tick or fix'. Where there is a spelling error, we follow the below guidance as a school. Options to correct may then be taken as appropriate, such as; the teacher provides the spelling, the pupil researches the correct spelling using a dictionary, corrections are made. Any common errors the teachers spot, get identified in their marking and feedback book and are retaught as part of the Feedback 5 the following session.

UKS2: Sp in the margin (including on a hot task but not on cold) and then evidence that they have green penned it.

LKS2: Sp under the word (including on a hot task but not on cold) and then evidence they have green penned it above the word.

KS1: Phonetically plausible spellings are fine but if we think they should be able to Fred Talk it, put an FT over the word then the child Fred Talks it with dots and dashes and corrects with green pen.

ACROSS SCHOOL from Y1-Y6: Children who are regularly getting common exception words incorrect, like 'when' or 'went' etc, please write at the bottom and get them to copy out a row of them. These could also be done through feedback 5 if you thought the whole class would benefit- please do this in green pen.

The importance of vocabulary runs throughout the curriculum and topic specific words are taught at the start of each unit, as well as in fluency and comprehension sessions, to ensure understanding and high expectations for spelling a broader range of words.

Writing: Handwriting

At KPNS we systematically teach Letter-join as our chosen handwriting scheme. Handwriting is a basic skill that influences the quality of work throughout the curriculum. By the end of Key Stage 2 we aim for all pupils to have the ability to produce fluent, legible and, eventually, speedy joined-up handwriting, and to understand the different forms of handwriting used for different purposes so that handwriting is an automatic process that does not interfere with creative and mental thinking.

Handwriting frequency and activities

Handwriting is a cross-curriculum task and will be taken into consideration during all lessons. Formal teaching of handwriting is to be carried out regularly and systematically to ensure Key Stage targets are met. The following information shows an overview of the kinds of activities we will be doing in school. At the beginning of each academic year, each teacher should aim to teach handwriting daily, in order for key concepts to be revisited / taught and to embed the expectation of using the correct letter-join style. This should last for approximately 2-3 weeks.

Reception	For our youngest pupils we will include the following in our routines;
	<ul> <li>Movements to enhance gross motor skills such as air-</li> </ul> writing, pattern making, dancing.
	• Exercises to develop fine motor skills such as making marks on paper, whiteboards, blackboards, sand trays, iPads and tablets.
	• Letter learning to familiarise letter shapes, formation and vocabulary.
Year 1-3	Children will practise:
	<ul> <li>Gross and fine motor skills exercises.</li> </ul>
	Cursive handwriting reinforcement, learning and practice.
	<ul> <li>Numerals, capitals and printed letters, including where and</li> </ul> when to use them.
Years 4-6	More advanced handwriting techniques will be taught including:
	<ul> <li>Cursive handwriting re-enforcement.</li> </ul>
	<ul> <li>Form-filling/labelling using printed and capital letters.</li> </ul>
	<ul> <li>Dictation exercises to teach the need for quick notes and</li> </ul> speedy handwriting writing.

We use books with handwriting lines from Y2-Y4 (and beyond if pupils still require them) in English and reading lessons. The image below shows our chosen letter formations.

THE TRIPOD PENCIL GRIP

Both right and left handed children should be encouraged to use the tripod grip which allows the pen/pencil to be held securely whilst allowing controlled movements of the pen/pencil nib.

LEFT-HANDED CHILDREN

Left-handed children may find it difficult to follow right-handed teachers as they demonstrate letter formation (and vice versa). Teachers should demonstrate to left-handers on an individual or group basis.

Speaking and Listening at KPNS

Speaking and listening is the foundation for all learning and is embedded across the curriculum. The national curriculum reflects the importance of spoken language in pupils' development across the whole curriculum – cognitively, socially and linguistically. The quality and variety of language that pupils hear and speak are key factors in developing their curriculum vocabulary and articulating concepts clearly and precisely. They must be assisted in making their thinking clear, both to themselves and others, and teachers aim to ensure that pupils build secure foundations by using discussion to probe and remedy their misconceptions.

In line with the National Curriculum, pupils are taught to:

- listen and respond appropriately to adults and their peers
- ask relevant questions to extend their understanding and knowledge
- use relevant strategies to build their vocabulary
- articulate and justify answers, arguments and opinions
- give well-structured descriptions, explanations and narratives for different purposes, including for expressing feelings
- maintain attention and participate actively in collaborative conversations, staying on topic and initiating and responding to comments
- use spoken language to develop understanding through speculating, hypothesising, imagining and exploring ideas
- speak audibly and fluently with an increasing command of Standard English
- participate in discussions, presentations, performances, role play, improvisations and debates (see below for progressive activities)
- gain, maintain and monitor the interest of the listener(s)
- consider and evaluate different viewpoints, attending to and building on the contributions of others
- select and use appropriate registers for effective communication.

To deliver this in all classrooms, we:

-Have learning partners and teachers use Turn to Your partner in all lessons (TTYP)

- -Key Vocabulary is explicitly taught, displayed and expected in all spoken and written work.
- -Weekly opportunity to discuss own opinions through the Jigsaw and School Council.
- -All adults model a high level of spoken language.
- -Higher order thinking questions are asked in all lessons.
- -Use talk activities as part of all learning and to enable children to practise and apply their learning.

-Writing unit design, as well as the structure of reading sessions, equip pupils with a strong command of the spoken and written English language and allows them to participate in discussions by communicating their ideas, emotions and opinions with others using appropriate vocabulary. Speaking and listening opportunities are embedded through all areas of the school curriculum
